

Members of the Committee...

Plainly stated, tolls on Connecticut highways, at our borders or anywhere internally, is just a bad idea-- for two reasons: Our roadways are so crowded and congested as is that the thought of the additional backup for the construction of any toll monitoring or collecting stations, and then to slow this traffic again to actually collect or monitor tolls boggles the mind. Second, we are already taxed for almost all goods and services under the sun. You really need to sharpen your pencils and find a better way.

Sincerely,
